

AMERICA'S ESSENTIAL
HOSPITALS

Marcy B. Pressman, MPH

Deputy Executive Director
Bellevue Hospital Center

Pressman is responsible for managing Bellevue Hospital Center's inpatient and outpatient services, including surgical services, psychiatry, medicine, pediatrics, OB/GYN, rehab medicine, and the emergency department. She is responsible for more than 500,000 outpatient visits and more than 20,000 discharges annually. In addition to being an active participant in developing and deploying the hospital's patient experience strategies, Pressman is an active executive sponsor for three value streams in the hospital's performance improvement program: acute care, psychiatry, and ambulatory care.

Before joining Bellevue Hospital Center, Pressman spent 14 years in various administrative and leadership roles throughout the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation. She encouraged HHC to adopt the Hospital Emergency Incident Command System beginning in 1999, and has since been a resource to other health care institutions. She also has extensive experience preparing hospitals to meet The Joint Commission's requirements and has acted as a mock-surveyor on numerous occasions.

AMERICA'S ESSENTIAL
HOSPITALS

Pressman holds a master's degree and two undergraduate degrees from Lehigh University, one in industrial engineering and the other in journalism/science writing. She was an America's Essential Hospitals fellow in 1998 and belongs to a variety of professional organizations.