

AMERICA'S ESSENTIAL
HOSPITALS

Marie Elivert, RN, BSN, MPA

Sr. Associate Executive Director for Patient Care Services
Queens Hospital Center (QHC)

Marie Elivert, RN, BSN, MPA is currently the Sr. Associate Executive Director for Patient Care Services at Queens Hospital Center (QHC). In addition to the role of assistant to the Deputy Executive Director of Patient Care Services, she is directly responsible for the Department of Respiratory, Infection Control, Patient Relations and Performance Improvement for the Patient Care Services department. She joined the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation in 1999 and QHC in 2006. Throughout her career from critical care staff nurse to senior executive leader, she got noticed for her passion, hard work and determination to continually improve of safety and the quality of care. She earned her Masters in Public Administration at Long Island University, Brentwood, NY and her Bachelor of Science in Nursing at Hunter College, New York NY. She has certification in Bioethics, and is a recipient of the Award of the Director. She is a current member of The New York Organization of Nurse Executives' (NYONE) and American Organization of Nurse Executives' (AONE) Her expertise is helping organizations to create a work environment that supports human development, team building, collaborative practice, safety and patient satisfaction.