

Lynn Elliott
Managing Director
Fahy Consulting

Elliott's consulting and executive coaching work focuses on behavioral change that results from increasing the client's self-awareness and using evidence-based methods to put change into practice. She works with leaders in personal development, team leadership, change and conflict management, and effective communication. She draws on topics such as leadership energy, accelerated change, courage and connection, positive psychology, and neuroscience.

Before joining Fahy Consulting, Elliott worked at Kaiser Permanente, where she led national and regional leadership programs and managed areas including leadership development, clinician patient communication, recognition, onboarding, coaching, and physician satisfaction surveys. Her experience in working with labor leaders and represented staff included leading interdisciplinary teams and building labor-management partnerships. Elliott is a certified professional coach and is qualified in the use of the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator, BarOn Emotional Quotient Inventory, Accelerating Implementation Methodology change management, and Franklin Covey 4 Disciplines of Execution and Leadership.
