

Jennifer Tscherney, MPS

Executive Director, Swedish Covenant Hospital Foundation
Swedish Covenant Hospital

Tscherney leads the team that launched and successfully completed a women's health initiative campaign for Swedish Covenant Hospital, a 312-bed safety net hospital on the north side of Chicago. As a result of fundraising, the hospital also began three new programs to enhance patient care in the last year focused on cancer survivorship, preventive screening, and violence against women. Tscherney has more than 18 years of experience in development in health care and higher education at institutions such as Northwestern Memorial Foundation, DePaul University, University of Illinois at Chicago, Sherman Health Foundation, and University of Chicago Medicine. She holds a master's degree in public service from DePaul University and a bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago.
