Vickie Wilson, RN, MBA

Quality Manager

Santa Clara Valley Medical Center

Vickie Wilson, RN is a quality manager at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center, part of the Santa Clara Valley Health and Hospital system, in San Jose, CA. She has been a RN for many years and earned a Masters of Business Administration from California State Eastbay. After many years as a Cardiovascular Director, Vickie decided to change her focus to quality management and healthcare reform. There are many who believe healthcare transformation will adversely affect the healthcare industry, but Vickie believes that many traditional healthcare models do not promote current research and realities. Healthcare systems cannot be mired in the past. Vickie started working at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center in 2011 as manager of the DSRIP project. She is delighted to work for organizations that is rapidly transforming to meet the needs of communities and to be market competitive.
